VOLUME 2.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, SEPT. 28, 1911.

NO. 100.

GRAND INSTRUCTOR

WILL BE WITH MARYVILLE ODD FELLOWS NEXT WEEK.

TO BE HERE THREE DAYS

On October 2, 3 and 4 He Will Hold School of Instruction—Lodge to Have Booth at Street Fair.

Word was received Thursday by Secretary Eugene Rathbun from Grand Master J. H. Bryant of Burlington Junction, announcing that Grand Instructor Hon. Morrison Pritchett would be in Maryville next week for the purpose of giving instruction in the work of Odd Fellowship. He will be here October 2, 3 and 4, during which time he will conduct a school of instruction.

It is especially desired that all Odd Fellows who possibly can will attend these meetings, as good instruction in the secret work of the order is very helpful to the cause. Special effort has been made to get the grand instructor here at this time, and the members of White Cloud lodge hope for a large attendance.

The Odd Fellows, at their meeting Tuesday night, appointed a committee to meet with the other committees from the various fraternal orders Thursday evening with a view of joining in a general fraternal day during the street fair. It is also probable that a booth will be erected where visiting brothers and members of the Rebekahs can be welcomed and entertained.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD AT MIRIAM CEMETERY

The funeral services for Helen Culbertson, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Culbertson, who died of infantile paralysis Wednesday morning at the home of her parents, on the Stundon farm, near Arkoe, will be held in Miriam cemetery at Maryville, at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

This change has been made in the place for holding the service, which was announced for the First Baptist church, owing to the general belief prevailing that infantile paralysis is contagious, although physicians disagree on that point.

A short service will be conducted by Rev. Lee Harrel of the First Baptist church at the cemetery.

MARSHALL ECKER WANTS A DIVORCE

Suit for divorce has been filed by Marshall W. Ecker against Rosa Ecker by Ellis G. Cook, attorney for the plaintiff. The petition states that the parties to the suit were married in Chautauque county, Kansas, September 19, 1903, and lived together until July 20, 1905, since which time, the plaintiff alleges, the defendant has absented herself without just reason. The plaintiff is now a resident of Nodaway county.

BACHELOR BROTHER LIVED ALONE

Henry E. Nicholas of Burlington Junction, who was in Maryville Thursday in connection with business in the probate court, states that the published reports concerning the death of his brother, John S. Nicholas, were incorrect. Mr. Nicholas states that his bachelor brother did not live with him, as was stated, but lived alone on his farm nearby.

On the morning after he had fallen in the ditch Mr. Nicholas discovered his brother, and immediately went to him, and finding he could not remove him alone, called for help, and the sick man was taken to the home of Henry E. Nicholas.

He also says that his brother was a man who never was out late at night, and if he had lived with him he would have known there was something wrong when he failed to return in reasonable time, but as it was he knew nothing of it until the next morning.

ADMINISTRATOR OF NICHOLAS ESTATE

In the probate court Thursday William E. Nicholas of Burlington Junction was appointed administrator of the estate of John S. Nicholas, his brother, who died September 22. John S. Nicholas was a bachelor and his estate will revert to his brothers and sisters, of whom there are eleven. The surviving members of the family are William E., Henry E., Mrs. Electa J. Hackett, Mrs. Martha E. Griffey and Mrs. Nellie Meeks, all of Nodaway county; Thomas A. Nicholas of Fort Collins, Col.; Pearl L., James G. Nicholas and Mrs. Nora Alderman of Staunton, Neb.; Mrs. Zepha Johnson of Denver, Col., and Mrs. Cora Dobson of Edgar, Neb.

MISS TOEL WAS IN AUTO FLOWER PARADE

Mrs. W. J. Toel and daughter, Miss Brownie Toel, went to Savannah Wednesday evening to visit until Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Limerick. They went to St. Joseph Thursday morning in company with the Limerick family to attend the horse show, and take part in the auto flower parade.

The Limerick car was decorated in water lilies and was driven by Miss Winifred Limerick, who was accompanied by Miss Toel. Both young ladies wore traveling suits of white.

Joseph Binter is one of the pioneers in local business circles, having been engaged in various business enterprises in Maryville for the past twenty-two years. He has not yet decided what he will do in future.

His father, grandmother and others came over from Ridgeway this morning, accompanied by Attorney A. L. Hughes, and arranged for bond. The young man's trial will be held during the November term of court.

HE HAS MADE GOOD

TAYLOR PREDICTS CLARK'S NOMINATION AND ELECTION.

WITHOUT ANY FANATICISM

Clark Will Not Have Cleveland's Trouble, But Will Have Sympathy of Congress.

Senator Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee declares emphatically for Champ Clark for president, and in an interview a few days ago paid the great Missourian the following magnificent tribute:

"I stand by my forecast of two months ago—that the Democracy in national convention is going to nominate and the people of the United States elect Champ Clark of Missouri. The work of the extra session and Clark's part in it is conspicuously creditable to him and spells victory for the Democratic party. In the language of the day, he has 'made good.'"

"There is no man in this country who more shrewdly and intelligently understands what the Democratic party is now fighting for and what it would fight for than Champ Clark. Mark you, when he is nominated by the next national Democratic convention we are going to have the best and most effective public speaking candidate this country ever saw. He will rally, arouse and unite the national Democracy as he has rallied, roused and made effective in solid phalanx the Democrats of the house, and just as he won over Republican aid in the house, he will win many thousands of voters who never before cast a Democratic ballot.

"Another thing pleasant to think about in the event of his election is that he will carry with him a sympathetic congress. It has happened several times that presidents have failed to get along with congress, largely because they had never had congressional experience. That was the foundation of Cleveland's troubles. Champ Clark has had eighteen years of this kind of experience, and no man in either party has ever enjoyed more friendships. He understands congress and knows congressmen. They understand and value him as a patriotic, progressive American, without a flaw of fanaticism. He comes from the common people. When Clark is elected every plowman can go home to supper cheered with the thought that he has not a better friend anywhere than the president."

An Automobile Accident.

While en route to St. Joseph in their White steamer last Friday afternoon, E. C. Wolfers, Sr., and family came near meeting with a serious accident.

When approaching a bridge near Barnard that spans a ravine fully twenty feet deep, the steering wheel of the machine broke, which came near allowing the auto to pitch off the bridge. As it was the front wheels struck the banisters, causing it, with the use of the brakes, to come to a standstill. Six inches farther would have sent them to the bottom of the deep ravine. The women folks took the train at Barnard, and continued their journey to St. Joseph, while Mr. Wolfers and Robert remained to repair the auto sufficiently to run it home. Hopkins Journal.

Charles Wells of Pryor, Okla., was in Maryville Tuesday and Wednesday on business and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wells. He left for his home Thursday morning, accompanied as far as St. Joseph by his father, and spent the day at the stock show.

HOME, SWEET HOME

VAST AUDIENCE AT ATLANTA SWAYED BY REV. BRICKER.

HOME WHERE LOVE LIVES

"Dearest Name for God is Father, and Sweetest Word for Heaven is Home."

Dr. L. O. Bricker, formerly pastor of the First Christian church of Maryville, and who left Maryville a few months ago to accept the pastorate at Atlanta, Ga., preached a sermon last Sunday night on "Home," which thrilled three thousand people who attended the service. The following is what the Atlanta Journal of Monday had to say:

Home, sweet home, the dwelling place of love, the reservoir of the world's power, the holy of holies of a man's life, was the theme with which Dr. L. O. Bricker swayed a great audience Sunday evening at the First Christian church. At least 3,000 people were touched by the beautiful picture the minister drew of home, memories of halcyon days now gone forever being brought before some minds, while before others was held dazzling the hope of a home that is to be.

"The four letters of the word 'home' comprise the alphabet of civilization," said the preacher. "On the sacred guarding of our homes depends the destiny of the world. A man never rises higher than his own garret. He never sinks any lower than his own cellar. If things go right there, they'll go right everywhere, and if things are wrong there they'll be wrong everywhere."

The Art of Home-Making.

"There is no art like the art of home-making. That ought to be the highest ambition of a young couple whom God has joined together. Home is where love lives. Not where love boards, or pays occasional visits, but where love owns the front door key and pervades the whole house. A king's palace cannot make a home, nor can it mar it. A rude cottage cannot make a home, either, nor can it mar it. Home is where love's habitation is, where love works and sacrifices and triumphs."

Dr. Bricker then entered into the sweetest and most touching part of his sermon—a picture of the first home of a newly wedded pair. All the wondrous revelations, the great surprises, the adorable experiences of those days of first housekeeping, were described to the audience in vivid words.

"Do you remember that first supper together, when you dined on angel-food cake, that being the only thing the little lady could make? What immense follies, what absurd mistakes had their place in your rare experiences. And when you had your first quarrel, do you remember your discovery of what a trivial matter could be fanned into a great flame? Ah, those are days through which every one ought to pass. Don't begin your married life in boarding houses or furnished rooms, but make a home of your own from the very start."

Business and the Home.

Then the speaker entered into a discussion of the relation of business and society to the home. He said that a man should neglect his business to a certain extent before he should neglect his home. He deplored the practice of so many society women of wearing themselves out in the parlor and tea room and then giving to their home circle the frazzled end of their clothes and the jangling end of their nerves.

"The first big business of a married couple," he said, "is the creation of a true home atmosphere. What our age needs is not more prosperity, not more dollars, but more love, more quiet peace, more fireside bliss. If business must suffer, let it suffer. It will be good for society to suffer, for by it homes will be bolstered up."

"Our dearest name for God is Father, and our sweetest word for heaven is home. This life of ours is a pilgrimage across the desert of the years. Many are the heartaches and the yearnings we have, toiling onward over the dusty sands. To give us a foretaste of what awaits us at the other end, God has let down into this life a bit of heaven, which we call home."

John Howard Payne.

The story was then told of John Howard Payne, the struggling, ambitious American boy who was in London on a night of piercing cold, without enough to eat or wear. Wandering in the dismal night, he saw a door open and a workman returning home with his dinner pail over his arm step into the light and embrace his wife. He saw two happy children playing on the floor and the white cloth on the table with a few steaming dishes.

But a moment the picture lasted, and then the door shut and nothing but darkness and cold remained for John Howard Payne. Stumbling back to his rude garret, his mind turned to his old home across the waters, and the heaven-sent inspiration came upon him, bringing that immortal poem, "Home, Sweet Home," the song that has soothed the minds of millions of weary wanderers and turned their faces toward home.

As a fitting close to the impressive evening's service, the audience arose and sang together the strains of "Home, Sweet Home."

Mrs. Estill D. Holland of Hot Springs, Ark., was the honor guest at an informal afternoon tea given by Mrs. R. L. McDougal to a few of Mrs. Holland's friends. Mrs. Holland left for her home Wednesday night, after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Judge and Mrs. W. C. Ellison.

Mrs. Taylor Was Hostess.

Mrs. Henry Kirby Taylor was hostess to the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church, South, of which she is president, Wednesday afternoon. The subject of the Bible lesson was "Obedience," and was led by Mrs. Taylor. The prayer was led by Mrs. N. F. Humber, followed by a song. The roll call was responded to with news paragraphs on missionary work in Korea. Mrs. E. B. Sheldon conducted a quiz on African mission work, and Mrs. W. J. Parvin gave a reading. After a short business session the hostess served refreshments and a delightful social hour ensued. The next meeting of the society will be with Mrs. Parvin, the last Wednesday afternoon in October.

A TRIP TO ROME

PROF. LEFFLER TOLD THE HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS OF IMPRESSIONS.

ROSE FROM TWO FAILURES

Moral of Talk Was That as Rome Rose, so Students Must Persevere Even After Failure.

Mr. Shepherd Leffler, a former high school teacher, and a young man of whom Maryville is justly proud, gave a very entertaining and instructive talk during the assembly hour at the high school Wednesday. He told in detail of his sojourn in Rome, his first impressions as he stood on the Capitoline hill, the central of seven hills around Rome. On three sides of him lay the three Romes of today, ancient, mediaeval and modern. "Most of my time," said Mr. Leffler, "was spent in ancient Rome. As I looked at each object of interest, the Sacra Via, over which the triumphal marches of countless Roman heroes had passed; the Rostrum, now a crumbling heap of stones, from which spoke the most famous orators that Rome possessed, some of which we possess now. I pictured in my mind Cicero delivering his orations, Caesar with his victorious army, returning a hero from conquered Gaul; Antony delivering his funeral oration over the dead body of Caesar, and I was very deeply impressed with the picturesque grandeur of it all."

Mr. Leffler said that one of the most interesting places he visited was the "Catacombs." "Taking candles and following our guides, we left daylight for the darkness of the tombs. The effect is weird indeed. As we progress and see burial inscriptions, such as 115 A. D., 125 A. D., the sensation becomes positively uncanny.

"We went far down into earth, seeing strange sights all the while, but as our candles burned low we turned back to our starting point.

"My trip to St. Peter's and the Vatican was enjoyed a great deal. St. Peter's is, as you may know, the most expensive and beautiful cathedral in the world. The immense picture galleries, some of them twelve hundred feet long, defy the powers of description."

Mr. Leffler, in conclusion, drew some very pointed moral lessons from his remarks. "Rome, as you have probably been told before, was not built in a day. Neither can your characters and lives be moulded in a short space of time. Rome fell; not once, but twice. This may be your lot. Rome rose from two failures, and is now one of Italy's most prosperous cities. If you are crushed again and again, arise; persevere; be indomitable. You can."

It is said that Mr. Taft has decided to abandon the tariff question in his next campaign and look for a new issue. His explanations are already becoming wearisome to him as they have been all along to the public.

Mr. Bryan says that for hot campaigns the reciprocity campaign in Canada beat anything he has yet seen. Among the many cartoons published was one in which the Canadian farmer was represented as working hard patching up the fences to keep the "Yankee pigs" from getting through. From the results it would seem that, while they were busy chinking up the holes, the Yankee trusts scaled the fence and captured the whole works.

"ME AND TAFT"

Tuesday, says the Chicago Journal, was President Taft's "nonpartisan day" in the line of speech making. He talked about history. And the task of stirring up the animals in the "progressive" cage was left to Secretary of the Interior Fisher—or he assumed it.

Mr. Fisher's aid in estranging the "progressive" Republicans was not needed.

In his Winona speech, two years ago, Mr. Taft practically urged his opponents in the Republican ranks to join the Democrats.

In Hamilton, Mass., last month, he accused the "progressives" of "playing politics" in congress, during the special session.

When speaking in Grand Rapids, the other day, he asserted that the tariff legislation in which the "progressives" bore prominent part was "the work of blacksmiths."

Again, in his Peoria speech he accused his opponents in his own party of professions "made for the purpose of campaign uses only."

Mr. Taft has shown himself abundantly capable of splitting his party without help. But Mr. Fisher manifests desire to figure as an actor in a program in which "me and Taft" can play the principal parts.

WAS AT BALIE WAGGENER PICNIC

Mrs. Cora C. Sharp, who makes her home with Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Dean, returned Thursday noon from Atchison, Kan., her former home, where she attended the annual children's picnic on Wednesday given by Hon. Balie P. Waggener to the children of Atchison.

Mrs. Sharp has not missed one of these picnics since the big-hearted Waggener first conceived the idea, a good many years ago. Fifteen thousand children were present Wednesday, and it was a gala day for Atchison, for President Taft visited the city and addressed the children. Mr. Waggener very generously put off the regular date of the picnic from September 15 to September 27, so that all his beloved children might hear the president of the United States as a special privilege.

Balie Waggener is sick. He returned from Rochester, Minn., the 15th of September, where he had been for a surgical operation, and the children of Atchison, each dressed in his best bib and tucker, with shining curls and laughing eyes, and hands laden with flowers, met him at the station and lined up on each side of the way down which his automobile passed and pelted him with flowers and shouted their welcome in wildest childish glee.

For once in his life Balie Waggener could not speak. He could only smile as the big tears filled his eyes. Few men in the world ever received such an ovation.

Mrs. Newton Hagins and son, Wesley, and her nephew, Donald Hagins, went to St. Joseph Wednesday evening to spend the remainder of the week with her father, James K. Young, and family and other relatives. Mr. Hagins will join them the last of the week.

Mrs. L. W. Miller of Bolckow spent Wednesday in Maryville at St. Francis hospital with her niece, Miss Cleo May of Burlington Junction, who underwent a surgical operation Monday for appendicitis. Miss May is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Goodspeed and son of Bedford, Ia., who have been visiting Mr. Goodspeed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodspeed, southeast of Maryville, for several days, went to St. Joseph Wednesday evening to attend the stock show.

R. H. Duncan of this city went to St. Joseph Thursday morning to attend the stock show and witness the auto parade.

Announce a Radical Change in Our Millinery Section

An Improvement of Great Interest to all Women

A millinery shop of exclusive hats, the great majority of them made by the most skilled designers in New York City is the result of our change in the manner of conducting our Millinery Section.

We have investigated the millinery business thoroughly before making this change. For a long time we have seen the need of such a plan as we have effected. We are now ready to introduce to you the most modern idea yet conceived for conducting a millinery shop.

Under the new plan we buy our hats direct from the original designers in New York City and Chicago. We have dispensed with the trimming room. Every model we show, therefore, is entirely different. There is no chance for sameness to creep in, no possible chance for duplication as in shops where one trimmer creates all the models. Instead of having to choose from the models produced by one designer we now select from fifty, a hundred, or five hundred. You can easily see what an opportunity is given us to select a magnificent stock. And for this reason our showing this season far surpasses any previous one.

This innovation not only secures for us the most stylish hats brought out in America but it enables us to sell them at very low prices. The entire line is priced as low, if not actually lower, than ever before. This is because we buy direct from the great manufacturers. We save you all of the middle profits. At the marked prices these hats are the greatest values we have ever offered in any line of merchandise.

You must see this showing to appreciate what this change means to you. Examine the materials, see the deft touches of the master milliners and then note the prices. We are sure of your approval.

Of particular interest is a small group of imported French models. Priced very reasonably, too, as we secured them at an even reduction of one-fourth off.

Central Auction School to Open

The New School of Auctioneering will open next Monday, Col. J. O. Bolin, in charge. Col. Bolin will be assisted by a half dozen of the leading auctioneers in Northwest Missouri. Col. Charles Evans will be the first of the teaching staff, and four others will follow him. Both Col. Bolin and Col. Evans have had years of experience and are recognized as being the best in their line.

A complete course in Auctioneering, embracing Farm, Merchandise, Real Estate and Pedigreed sales will be offered. The time for completion will be five weeks. The new school is organized by the Western School Company, which is the corporate name of the local Business College, and while the company does not expect a large school for a year or two, it is sure of a few students to start, and hopes by aggressive and progressive methods to build up a school as large or larger than the business school, which numbers between two and three hundred a year. E. S. Cook, A. J. Holt and E. L. Cook are the stockholders in the company's enterprises.

The school is to be known as "The Central Auction School" and will occupy the first floor of the College Building. DENOUNCES SALE OF BAD FOOD

A great crowd assembled in Convention hall at Kansas City Tuesday night to hear Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry in the department of agriculture, deliver a speech on the "Health of the People." The feature of the speech was an attack on the manufacturer who sells adulterated foods and drugs, and who was characterized as a thief and a corruptor of public morals.

The officers of the conservation congress announced that the principal subject to be considered at next year's meeting probably would be pure food and the conservation of the public health.

Dr. Wiley, exonerated star figure in the so-called Wiley pure food controversy, told the national conservation congress that the health of the nation was worth $540,000,000,000. He made this estimate on the basis of $600 per capita average annual earnings of 45,000,000 wage earning adults, each representing a capital of $12,000,000 invested at 5 per cent. This declaration was made in an address in which he advocated limitation of marriage to normal and healthy individuals, segregation of tubercular and typhoid fever patients as in smallpox, yellow fever and leper cases; establishment of a national department of health and rigid enforcement of pure food and drug laws.

Dr. Wiley said that "if in the remote future coal, iron, gold and silver should become extinct, science would provide substitutes," and that science would "secure the maintenance and increase of the wealth in forest, field and stream."

"But there is another natural asset," he continued, "lying at the very basis of the prosperity of the country which is sometimes overlooked, namely, the normal functioning of the human machine, commonly expressed by the term 'health.' This has more to do with the happiness, prosperity and utility of the human organism than any of the other natural assets which I have mentioned." The dangers which confront this vast asset of the nation, he said, were the inheritance of disease or of weakened bodies, poor nutrition, unwholesome and adulterated food, the taking of disease by infection and unsanitary conditions, the latter caused by overcrowding in big cities and by lack of hygienic knowledge in the country districts.

For Health Department.

"In order to unify the national and state activities making for the public health," he declared, "the establishment of a national department of health is almost a necessity. Do not be deterred by the cry which goes up of a 'doctors' trust.' The wise physicians are in favor of such a department not because it is a 'physicians' trust,' but because it is for the good of the people.

"The selfish physician will be glad to see the present condition of affairs continue because it tends to produce disease and thus throws into his hands an increased practice. The altruistic physician believes in prophylaxis rather than in therapeutics. He is willing to sacrifice his own income in his devotion to the public service.

"Congress should take early steps toward securing in the councils of the nation an adviser to the president charged with the protection of the health of the people and the proper education of the people in matters relating to their well-being, both moral and physical. What is needed is to bring together all the activities of the national government into one department having the prestige and power of presidential advisement."

Regarding Adulterations.

Vigorously did Dr. Wiley attack as a "thief and a corruptor of public morals" the manufacturer who sells adulterated food and drugs. The human animal, he declared, is entitled to a pure and wholesome diet. "The drug store and the grocery store," he said, "should be distinct concerns and not sell each other's wares. The man who converts peanut shells into pepper, on the ground that the poor man is not able to buy pure pepper, is a thief and a corruptor of public morals. The rich man possibly may be able to afford peanut shells, but the poor man never. The man who dilutes the milk waters the stock of the wealthiest company in the world.

"Especially is this principle true."

he declared, "as regards children, and no penalty is too severe for the man who deliberately puts a poisonous dye into candy to sell the stick for a penny and puts two-thirds of the penny into his own pocket. Or, when children of a larger growth are able to frequent the ubiquitous soda fountain, why should they be permitted to freely purchase injurious alkaloids or fraudulent substitutes for sugar used as sweetening agents?

"Again, by what principle of political economy can the practice be justified of keeping wholesome food in storage until its taste has vanished and poisonous degradation of products have been produced?"

Advocating prohibition of marriage of persons afflicted with incurable diseases, or imbecile, or otherwise grievously beset, he declared the power of the state to protect its citizens from disease may be constitutionally exercised before as well as after birth.

Manufacturing in large cities he condemned, saying: "Cities should be reserved for exchange and every artisan engaged in production provided with a lot where he can breathe the fresh air and touch Mother Earth."

Nature's Hair Restorer

Restores Gray Hair to Natural Color

Sulphur is a Natural Element of the Hair

When there is not a sufficient amount of sulphur in the hair, it loses its life, color and strength, turns gray, and falls out. There are many forms of sulphur, but only one kind that is suitable for treatment of the hair and scalp, and that is the kind used in preparing WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY.

We Have the Secret, and We Give You the Benefit of It at an Exceedingly Low Price

BALDNESS CURED

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair, and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

MOTHER AND SON
DROWN THEMSELVES

Bodies Taken From Lake Bound
Together at Wrists.

East Brookfield, Mass., Sept. 28.—Bound together with straps about their wrists, the bodies of Mrs. Mary Lacey and her son, J. G. Lacey, of Fitchburg were found in Lake Lashaway. Grief over a charge on which the son had been arrested is supposed to have led him to suicide.

Mrs. Lacey was fifty-three years old and her son thirty.

Lacey was employed as a steward at the exclusive Pay club at Fitchburg and was highly regarded by its members. When a week ago he was arrested on a serious charge his acquaintances were greatly surprised. Friends say Mrs. Lacey took the matter to heart.

The right wrist of the young man was bound to the left wrist of his mother with a skate strap, while the other hands were held less closely together with a string.

Numerous letters found in a grip on the shore said both the mother and son preferred death to publicity.

SHOPMEN OUT AT MEMPHIS

Illinois Central Machinists Strike in Sympathy With Clerks.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Shopmen employed by the Illinois Central at Memphis, Tenn., joined the ranks of the striking clerks. This was admitted by W. L. Parks, vice president of the railroad, after information from union headquarters had indicated that a general walkout of machinists had taken place at Memphis. Mr. Park said, however, that not more than 200 machinists had gone out.

Two hundred nonunion men were sent south by the Illinois Central railroad to take the places of striking clerks and messengers who are out at southern points.

Men Ordered to Stay at Work.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 28.—Telegraphic orders restraining workmen of the various railway trades on the Illinois Central and other Harriman lines from walking out were sent out from Davenport by authority of the international presidents. According to President O'Connell of the machinists, no strike yet has been ordered and will not be until after a conference between the international presidents and Harriman officials.

Receives $1,000 for Blood.

Carlyle, Ill., Sept. 28.—Miss Clara Roekenhouse of Carlyle has accepted $1,000 for the blood she allowed physicians to take from her arms to prolong the life of the late Julia A. Sparks, a wealthy widow, for whom she worked. The payment is in settlement of a suit for $20,000 against the estate of Mrs. Sparks.

Madero Returns; Rioting Renewed.

Mexico City, Sept. 28.—Within a few hours after the return of Francisco I. Madero from his speaking tour through the south, Mexico City again became the scene of riots, the quelling of which by the mounted police resulted in the wounding of seventeen persons, two of whom probably will die.

Germany Accepts France's Proposals.

Paris, Sept. 28.—The German minister of foreign affairs, Herr von Kiderlin-Waechter, received the French ambassador to Germany, M. Cambon, at the foreign office in Berlin and informed him that Germany accepted the latest French proposals concerning Morocco.

Militiamen Are in Camp.

Omaha, Sept. 28.—Two regiments of Nebraska national guardsmen, consisting of nearly 2,000 men, detained at Camp John H. Miskey and pitched camp for practice maneuvers, which are to continue for ten days.

BULLS AND BEARS ARE BOTH ROUTED

Big Upheaval on the New York
Stock Exchange.

EARLY GAINS LOST AT CLOSE.

First Transaction in United States Steel Is Thirty-eight Thousand Shares, the Second Largest Block in Recent Years.

New York, Sept. 28.—One of the most exciting episodes in the history of Wall street in recent years was the session of the Stock exchange. Aside from times of panic it is doubtful whether the fluctuations of stocks ever were more violent. The market was in confusion throughout the day. The range of prices in some cases exceeded six points.

A peculiar feature was that trading resulted in the utter rout of both the bull and bear factions. At the opening there was a stampede of bears to cover their contracts, which they were compelled to do at heavy losses. In the afternoon the bears obtained control of the market and prices melted away. At the close the bears retired victorious.

The United States Steel corporation's statement that dissolution or disintegration were not contemplated by the corporation was the pivot around which the market moved.

Prices Break Under Selling.

After the first wild rush to buy stocks it became apparent that heavy selling was in progress. The market wavered and broke. All through the afternoon it was attacked relentlessly. The gains of three or five points of the early trading were lost and almost all of the active stocks closed with net losses.

Veteran floor traders said they had never witnessed such scenes. Long before the opening, brokers began to gather about the United States Steel post ready to execute the buying or selling, which had been pouring in as a result of the steel corporation's statement. The brokers were packed so closely that it was difficult for anyone to raise an arm above his head.

The gong which signalled the opening was succeeded by a long howl. The men surged and swayed about the post and then moved in a struggling mass across the floor. The stronger element, the sellers, forced the entire group across the floor. The brokers dragged each other about in such a fashion that an inexperienced observer would have thought that a fight was in progress. The crowd soon returned to the Steel post, but there was scarcely a let up in the excited trading.

Total Transactions Big.

The first transaction in United States Steel was 38,000 shares, the largest block within recent years, with the exception of a 45,000-share block on last Friday. The price touched 62, a gain of 5 1/2. The preferred rose 5 1/2; Lehigh Valley, 6 1/2; Union Pacific, 3 1/2, and other favorite speculative issues from 2 to 4 points. Never before had such quantities of steel stock been dealt in.

The decline was as relentless as the advance. Bear traders took courage when they saw that the gains were being lost, and resumed operations. At times the market was almost demoralized. The close was nervous and unsettled. Total transactions were the largest for the year.

Tired of Name "Undertaker."

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 28.—At the convention of the New York State Embalmers' association, which opened here, a proposition was made to change the name undertaker to "mortician."
